The No. 1 show for the machine tools and metalworking industry in China

Since 1991 CIMT in Beijing has been developed to the most important platform for the machine tools-related industry not only in China, but in the whole Far East. Since long time this show has been overlooked as the venue capacities in Beijing aren't been satisfying for the great demand from international as well as from domestic exhibitors.

For 2019 this will be unfortunately not changed and with the again further growing importance of the Chinese market for the world-wide economy CIMT 2019 will be again the most busiest hub for the related industry. The twin-show in Shanghai in even years, the just running CCMT, most probably will become similar important then latest from 2020 onwards as it has still good chances to grow, while this in Beijing for CIMT – at least at present – can't be foreseen due to space-shortages...

In order to secure for the German and German-based exhibitors a substantial portion of the space we kindly ask you to make your (non-binding) reservation as soon as possible – for example with the here attached reply-slip. This shall help us to underline our space requests in negotiations with the organizer CMTBA – China Machine Tool and Tool Builders' Association.

The time of reservation will have also an effect later, when starting the allocation work: Late incoming or just-in-time applicants without prior reservation round the deadline in September may not expect to get the best positions or to bear less space-shortages than others...
