Iraq – a promising market

New international investments are going to promote the reconstruction of Iraq. At the Iraq Reconstruction Conference held in Kuwait in February 2018, Iraq's NIC National Investment Commission informed about possible projects. Government representatives from over 70 countries, non-governmental organizations and almost 2,000 Iraqi and foreign entrepreneurs took part. According to a needs assessment, the Iraqi government has conducted with the World Bank, those reconstruction projects will require US$ 88 billion.

At the conference, non-governmental organizations pledged US$330 million in aid. Government donors have a total of US$30 billion in prospect. Turkey plans to provide loans of US$5 billion, Kuwait US$2 billion and Qatar US$1 billion. The USA intends to support Iraq projects of American companies with financing of US$ 3 billion. The EU wants to provide services worth 400 million euros. Iran, an important player in Iraq not only politically but also economically, declared in March to make loans available amounting to 2.5 billion euros.
